

NEW Adjustable lock plate

in production from February 2013

A new type of lock plate will be in use soon for most of pass doors, side doors and double wing doors. The plate is connected to the same shape plate with fixed nuts on the opposite side of door frame. After releasing screws, there is a possibility to adjust plate up/down and forward/backward in about 3 mm.